Dewey Counsel Calls Lynch 'Oratorical Thug' at Dinner

Stock Market Has Sudden Break

Selling Drive Tumbles Issues From $1 to $2 per Share

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Stock prices broke sharply this morning under an intense selling drive that appeared out of nowhere. Leading issues cracked $1 to more than $2 a share before the deluge of selling orders dwindled away to a trickle. Numerous stocks bounced up from their extreme lows but there was no full-fledged rally. For nearly an hour the price-reporting machinery of the stock exchange dropped behind in reporting transactions from the trading floor the lag amounted to eight minutes at the worst. For a while the exchange resorted to the unusual procedure of flashing prices of key stocks directly from the floor. Steels and autos, recently odds-on favorites, were singled out by selling forces. Losses, though, were dashed out with a lavish hand in other sections of the market.

Can't Decide Factor
Wall Street quarters were unable to put their finger on any one factor to explain the abrupt drop in prices. Many regarded the slump as caused by a case of nerves among traders who feared new controls from Washington and unfavorable international developments. Also upsetting, according to some quarters, was President Truman's statement at a press conference last night.

Berardi Is Given Terrace Contract By Kingston Board

James Berardi of 40 Roosevelt avenue has been awarded the contract for paving and constructing sidewalks, sewers, drains and other items on Browning Terrace. Berardi's bid of $21,789.40 was lowest of three bids opened by the Board of Public Works at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon. Other bids received were $24,944.10 from V. J. Costanzo, Inc., and $25,775.84 from Raymond Conway. Work on the 700-foot-long street, which extends westerly from Millers Lane will begin this fall, as soon as materials are obtained, Berardi said today. Under the present contract, the new street will terminate 700 feet from its intersection with Millers Lane. The Board of Public Works has ruled that the end be left open, rather than being closed with a turning circle as originally planned, so that at some future date the street may be extended to connect with Dunnehan avenue.

Democrats Must Prove Charges or 'Shut Up'; Hits Bungling in Washington

Referring to Representative Walter A. Lynch as "an oratorical thug of the Tammany machine, a master of the lie," Attorney Lawrence E. Walsh, counsel to Governor Dewey, told a dinner meeting last night of the Republican City Committee that the Democratic candidate for governor "is unworthy of public office or respect." Approximately 100 men heard his vigorous speech at the Hotel Stuyvesant in which he scored the Democratic campaigners for saying or intimating what they cannot prove. Walsh, a law school classmate of Vincent G. Connolly, assistant district attorney and chairman of the city committee, said "the only way to get votes is by being decent, not by character assassination of good men."

Walsh recited the accomplishments of the Dewey administration and stressed that the governor should be elected on his record. "If you change, you can change to only one thing—Fanny Flynn and his political machine," he said.

Praises Wicks, Wadlin
He complimented Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Senate majority leader, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, and John F. Wadlin, assemblyman from Ulster, on being capable legislators. He mentioned their cooperation with the Dewey administration and scored Democratic tactics by saying, "I get sick and tired of observing unscrupulous associates of New York gangsters coming upstate and pointing their fingers at us."

President May Recall Lawmakers

Serious Consideration Is Given Proposal; May Work on Rent Law, Other Legislation
May Revise Draft
Broader Plan Sought for Manpower, Arms Program

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Truman was known to have under serious study today a special call to Congress to return to Washington on Nov. 15—just eight days after the elections. Two different sources in a position to know about White House moves told a reporter last night that Mr. Truman was considering issuance of the call before the Nov. 7 election.

These sources, who stipulated that they not be named, said a tightening and extension of federal rent controls was the main item on an emergency program of legislation the President is working on. In addition to rent control, the President was reportedly considering asking Congress for new taxes. It has pledged enactment of an excess profits tax late this year or early in 1951—and possibly for some new military manpower legislation.

The present Congress quit Sept. 23 under an agreement to return Nov. 27, nearly three weeks after election, for an expected brief "lame duck" session—so called because some members will have been defeated at the polls. Didn't Mention Recall Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), president pro tempore of the Senate who was a White House caller yesterday, said the President did not mention recalling Congress early.

He was in high good humor, though, McKellar added. A Democratic proposal to tighten federal rent controls would be expected to have popular political appeal. The present rent control law will end Dec. 31 except where cities or other local governments take positive action to extend it until next June 30. To date only about 200 of the 3,000 rent control areas have taken this action.

Other legislation reported under White House discussion includes:

1. Revision of the existing draft act to provide a broader manpower and military training program.

2. Quick action on an additional boost in federal taxes above the $4,700,000,000 tax hike already on the books.

3. Modification of the new anti-subversive act, passed over the President's veto.

4. Consideration of additional billions of dollars in appropriations.

Retail Sales in U. S. Jolted By Government Restrictions

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—The government's credit-tightening blow against inflation has severely jolted retail sales around the country. A nationwide spot-check by The Associated Press disclosed today a highly variegated impact on sales resulting from stiffer installment buying terms last week by the Federal Reserve Board. One main fact stands out—people have cut back their heavy buying because they haven't got the ready cash for higher down payments or because their incomes are too low to meet the new stepped-up monthly payment terms. That is exactly what the Federal Reserve aimed at with its new regulations Oct. 16, which tightened up the previous controls of Sept. 18 requiring heavier down payments and a shorter time to pay. After less than two weeks of operating under the new controls, however, the picture is far from uniform. Most heavily involved in sales declines are automobiles, home appliances, television sets and furniture. The situation is complicated by such things as war scare buying, automobile model changeovers, color television uncertainties, war shortages, and just plain customer confusion. For instance, television set sales in New York are reported to be on the skids with some merchant cutting prices to encourage customers, while on the west coast sales of San Francisco buyers are rushing to beat the Nov. 1 federal 10 per cent excise tax. Department store sales reported by the Federal Reserve Board show some key cities little affected by credit controls on total sales, but home appliances and furniture sales dropped by varying amounts. Hardest hit, all agree, are stores specializing in credit sales on low or no down payments and a long time to repay. They had to raise their requirements, and their particular type of customer was simply priced out of the market. The biggest outcry has come from automobile dealers of all types. Estimates of sales losses vary in the extreme. So far there are only scattered reports of loss of furniture sales because of curtailment of new housing starts. One thing many merchants discovered was a pick-up in sales of merchandise not covered by credit regulations, particularly the so-called soft goods like clothing and furnishings.

Autumn's Heat Is Most Intense

Polar Air Is Cut Off, and So It Is Hot in Many Places

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—A mid-autumn heat wave, described by the Weather Bureau as one of the "most intense in history for late October," is bringing record high temperatures in scores of cities from coast to coast. And more of the same is in prospect, the bureau's latest extended 30-day forecast says.

Since October 10 Indian Summer has lain over the whole land with the exception of New England, Florida, Minnesota's Red River Valley and northwest Washington. Luburn H. Seamon, a climatologist expert in the bureau's central office here, told a reporter "it's been hotter lately in some places than in summer."

During the week ending last Tuesday, the average temperature in New York, Philadelphia, Hartford, Conn., and Tampa, Fla., averaged a daily six degrees above normal.

He can call that a big departure from normal, but it doesn't look like much compared to these figures," Seamon said as he produced a chart which showed temperatures much higher than normal in other areas.

Why? Well, here's how Philip Chang, second in command of the extended forecast section, explained it:

"Pressures in the upper air (above 10,000 feet) are much higher than normal and the strongest band of westerly winds flowing across the country are well north of their normal position. That cuts off the cold, Polar air which should be getting down here by now. It lets in a lot of warm, tropical air from the Pacific and the Gulf of Mexico. And so it's hot."

American Might Be Given Command of Unified Group

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—A key U. S. official predicted North Atlantic Pact military men will recommend that an American be appointed without delay as supreme commander of a combined western European defense force. This action was forecast as the North Atlantic Military Committee prepared to resume the momentous implementation session begun Tuesday. There was fresh speculation in advance of the meeting that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may become the supreme commander. The Columbia University president, supreme allied commander in Europe during World War 2, told reporters at Indianapolis yesterday that he was coming to Washington within a few days to talk with Defense Department officials. He said he did not know what the department wanted, but added:

"I'm happy and pleased, of course, that the people of Europe have suggested me to head their defense army."

An issue on which the committee had yet to agree involved the size and the timing of contributions to be made by Atlantic pact nations toward the 30 to 40 divisions, the increased air power and the naval forces officially considered necessary to defend western Europe. The military committee, composed of top rank military officers of the Atlantic pact countries, will make recommendations rather than decisions. Its recommendations will go to the North Atlantic Defense Committee, composed of defense ministers, who will meet here Saturday and probably Monday as well.

Machines May Be Taken From Area Taverns, Is Report

County Association Seeks Final Action on Part of Owners With C.I.O.

Juke boxes, cigarette machines and pin-ball games will disappear from at least half of Ulster county's taverns if tavern owners follow a resolution adopted Tuesday night by the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association. Members of the association who were present at the meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall voted to notify owners of the collection of machines to remove them from the members' business places "within the next few days." This action was the latest step in a situation which was precipitated by letters received by area restaurant and hotel owners. The letters, signed by a C.I.O. union business manager whose office is in Mt. Vernon, warned that pickets would be placed in front of certain premises unless the use of juke boxes, not served by union men, was discontinued.

Mayor Will Seek $62,000 for Works

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will ask the Common Council to authorize a $62,000 bond issue to finance enlargement of the city incinerator and to construct the Elizabeth street sewer. The mayor was authorized to take this action by the Board of Public Works at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon. Of the total amount to be asked, $50,000 will be earmarked for improvements and expansion of the present city incinerator. The remaining $12,000 will be used for the construction of the Elizabeth street sewer, if the Common Council approves the request. Plans for both projects have already been approved by the Board of Public Works.

Says 'Attempt' Hoax

Denver, Oct. 26 (AP)—Chief Postal Inspector R. B. Dunbar said today a reported attempt to rob a U. S. mail truck on Manhattan Pass last night was a hoax. Dunbar said the truck driver, Eugene Courtney, 25, a veteran of the South Pacific war, had admitted firing pistol shots into his truck and making up a story that gunmen in an automobile tried to stop him. Courtney has told officers three men in a "big Cadillac" pulled alongside his truck, threatened him with guns and ordered him to stop.

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Oct. 24: Net budget receipts, $136,160,197.33; budget expenditures, $124,850,135.73; cash balance, $1,152,176,814.09; budget receipts for month, $44,184,977.28; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $1,060,176,814.09; budget expenditures fiscal year, $1,271,185,939.04; budget deficit, $211,007,121.95; total debt, $26,583,922,249.88; interest over previous day, $127,433,486.11; gold assets, $29,200,328,770.39.

Patrols Are Unopposed Near River

Eight Army Is Making Investigation About 20,000 Sino Reds in North Korea

Unit Surrounded

Commander at Onjong Sends Out Call for Reinforcements

Seoul, Oct. 26 (AP)—An allied patrol of British and American troops reached Red China's Manchurian border tonight. South Korea in patrol faced unopposed to the south bank of the Yalu river, in the center of the uneasy frontier between North Korea and Manchuria. They were the first U.S. troops to complete the long thrust up the mountainous peninsula.

Other elements of the same division the Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth were reported under attack by Chinese Communists some 50 miles to the south. There was no high killed confirmation, however.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said "there is an evidence of a large-scale prisoner exchange in North Korea by the Chinese Communist Army." Two Chinese prisoners, he said, were in North Korean uniform.

The Eighth Army command was making an investigation of the prisoner exchange. It reported that 20,000 Red Chinese troops had crossed into North Korea from Manchuria. The other had reported the Chinese were attacking. The spokesman made it clear that all U.S. forces, including American, are on alert and are in North Korea that strategy dictates. There had been reports that U. S. troops might be stopped short of the Manchurian border.

60,000 Marines Land

And on the east coast, the U. S. Marine First Division spearheaded a 50,000-man landing force at captured Wonsan port. The Korean Military Advisory Group reported that the honor of being the first U.S. force to reach the Manchurian boundary fell to the Seventh Regiment of the ROK, Sixth Division.

The division, kicking off from Kowang 18 miles south of the border, entered Chusan at 5:30 p. m. (U.S. time) and sent patrols three miles further north to the winding Yalu.

The report that Red Chinese troops had entered the fighting came from army headquarters, which attributed it to a Chinese Communist prisoner.

A South Korean spokesman reported the Chinese prisoner said three Chinese Red battalions were striking elements of the South Korean Sixth Division east of Onjong, about 75 miles north of Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital now held by United Nations troops.

Call for Help

The spokesman said a ROK field commander near Onjong had reported his unit was almost surrounded and called for reinforcements. The field commander did not specify the attackers were Chinese.

Onung is 32 miles south of Kowang, captured earlier in the day by a spearhead of the South Korean Sixth Division. Extradition, the Red force attacking the unit near Onjong waited for the main body of South Koreans to disperse.

On the west coast an American infantry regiment plunged a rapid bayonet attack on a Chinese unit. It seemed unlikely the doughboys would stop any line short of the boundary. A U. S. spokesman said their mission is "to clear Korea."

Line Is Extended

And the Far East Air Force's bomb line was extended to the Manchurian border. Previously it had been 12 miles short. To back up other forces foraging northward on the Sea of Japan coast, U. S. and ROK marines and U. S. infantrymen made the new landing at the port of Wonsan.

A remark by a spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters raised a doubt as to whether an end of the four-month United Nations campaign was in sight.

Asked when American troops may be withdrawn from Korea, the spokesman replied they have

May Release Guard

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the army field forces, indicated yesterday that some national guard units now in federal service may be released in seven or eight months. He told the National Guard Association that the units will not be held beyond their training period providing no international emergency arises. They are due to begin a 28-week training program early next month. This will be followed by maneuvers, Clark added, however, that some of the guardsmen might be held in service longer to help train other troops.

Roosevelt Attacks Dewey Personally

Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., (D.-L.I.-N. Y.) describes Governor Dewey as a man of "completely ruthless, inhuman ambition."

Roosevelt said last night that Mrs. Dewey, whom he called a "charming lady," once remarked that "Tom hasn't changed at all—people are just getting to understand him better."

Roosevelt said: "How right she is. The people are beginning to see the completely ruthless, inhuman ambition of this little man."

Roosevelt spoke at a $25-a-plate dinner of the Schenectady County Democratic Committee.

Book Review

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library, the following review by Mrs. G. Cranmer Dodge is published.

THE HILL OF GLASS

by Catharine Whitehead

Slippery, sophisticated and shocking, this is worth reading because so well written and interesting and gives a true picture of one section of upper class American society, with its outer veneer of respectability, covering its scandals, its utter selfishness and general lack of responsibility.

The story opens with two elderly, extremely well-groomed widows, Lucy Macintosh and Emily Winfield, friendly enemies all their lives, lunching in a swank New York restaurant and bickering about their respective daughters, Laura and Marianna. Lucy sees, across the room Hank (Emily's son-in-law) lunching with a very pretty girl — not Marianna. They leave without being seen by them—they think.

As Lucy suspected—and Emily denied—there was romance back of that luncheon date of Hank and Eleanor. It started in Italy during the war when Hank was serving as a naval officer and Eleanor as a nurse. Eleanor had long since become a meaningless excuse for his lovely little son, Willie, so the whole-hearted devotion he received from Eleanor presented the almost insoluble problem of keeping Eleanor at all costs and at the same time not losing Willie.

The author, with keen-witted insight shows up the various characters for what they are. A week-end trip aboard Schuyler's luxury yacht with his Princeton classmates, Hank and Ford with Marianna and Laura and a few others bring some incipient romances to a head. There was much champagne and gin consumed but Schuyler was a responsible host so nothing serious happened. On that trip Schuyler suddenly realized that he was in love with Laura and she with him but his code prevented his courting another man's girl and so the trip ended with the engagement of Laura and Ford as well as that of Hank and Marianna. Through Marianna secretly adored Ford.

After that they followed the usual pattern of young couples of their class. Gay parties at one another's homes or at night clubs with a great deal of drinking usually ending with some great or small disaster precipitated by Ford who could not carry his liquor, with results and something of ruffled feeling by good dependable Schuyler.

There was a dark, unsavory secret in Ford's background of which Laura learned enough on her honeymoon to turn her bitter and desperate. Finally Lucy sent her to a sanitarium for alcoholics and dug up more damaging facts about Ford in the hope of breaking up the marriage. But, surprisingly, largely due to Schuyler's unfailing sympathy and moral support, it had the opposite effect.

Meantime a Christmas party at Laura's discloses Lucy's carefully guarded secret about her bad heart condition when she collapses from overexcitement. Then Hank and Marianna arrive bringing Hank's father, Ralph, and his lovely second wife, Lily, and Ralph suffers an attack of acute indigestion. Lily comes running with his medicine but not in time to prevent Ralph's bursting out the deadly nature of his disease. Hank takes his father home and then after too much heavily spiked punch, Ford tells Marianna about Hank's extra marital affair, and precipitates a demand for a divorce. Laura gave Marianna some worldly wise advice.

It's not always smart business to catch a man at it, you know. You've got to trust them. That way they're the only ones to suffer. Guilty conscience. It's brought a lot of men home in the end, and don't you forget it," and she added, "Merry Christmas."

It's a topsy turvy world in which the seemingly respectable and well-bred often behave like guttersnipes with Tom cat morals. While the real ladies in the book are Eleanor and Lily, who followed the primrose path to happiness, Eleanor was a lovely, sensitive girl with no malice toward anyone. Lily had been Ralph's mistress for three years before marrying him upon the death of his wife and the loss of his fortune, and was a faithful and devoted companion to him under most trying circumstances. Through the whole story brille, shallow and lonely Lucy and Emily plot and plan together to save their children and grandchildren from disaster, and above everything else to keep up the illusion of youth in themselves. Once Emily suggested lunching at Schuyler's. "Not Schuyler's," said Lucy. "Only old ladies eat there."

Study U. S. Methods

London (AP)—British printers are sending a delegation to the United States next year to study lithographic printing methods. The visit has been arranged by the Anglo-American Council on Productivity, which was set up by the British and American governments. Its aim is to help the British learn some of America's industrial know-how. The British Federation of Master Printers announced the appointment of Capt. Charles Birchall, chairman of Charles Birchall and Sons, Ltd., of Liverpool, as head of the delegation. Other members have not yet been appointed.

Deported leaders should be repaired and repaired at once to prevent further damage through rusting.

To Have Company on Road

Hyderabad, India (AP) — The Nizam of Hyderabad is going to share the road with other traffic when he goes for a drive through this city. For years, all other traffic was cleared from the streets when the Nizam went riding. Now, at the Nizam's own request, other cars will be permitted to drive along the sides of the road. The Nizam has lost much of his power and many of his privileges since India ended his dream of an independent state with the "police action" of 1948.

Al Smith's Daughter Backs Dewey; Is Enrolled Democrat

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey campaigned for reelection today with the backing of Mrs. Emily Smith Warner, daughter of the late Democratic Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

She introduced Dewey last night at a Queens rally at which he said gambler Frank Costello hopes to gain control of the New York state government in the Nov. 7 election.

Dewey said Costello is the real boss of Tammany Hall, the New York county (Manhattan) Democratic organization, and the Democratic candidates for state office are "puppets."

"The governor will fly to Buffalo tonight for a two-day tour of the Great Lakes region of New York state."

Mrs. Warner told the Queens rally.

"I am delighted to be on the same platform (with the governor) not only for Gov. Dewey's sake but for my own. As an enrolled Democrat, I am going to vote for Gov. Dewey."

She is the wife of John A. Warner, who served as state police superintendent for 20 years before resigning Aug. 24, 1923, eight months after Dewey took office. Smith had appointed him.

Warner and his wife supported Dewey's unsuccessful presidential candidacy in 1928. Warner said then he had voted for Dewey for governor in 1934.

Sitting beside the governor's wife on the platform, Mrs. Warner smiled while Dewey attacked Tammany Hall, Democratic National Committee Chairman Edward J. Flynn of the Bronx, and Costello.

Dewey dismissed the Democratic state ticket as consisting of men "you didn't know before they were nominated and whom you won't know after the election."

Smiling at Mrs. Warner, Dewey said:

"When Al Smith was governor of New York, the Democratic Party in this state was a great party. But he said Smith 'would have nothing but the utmost contempt' for everything 'the Flynn machine represents in this state.'"

THE YOUNGSTOWN KITCHENS DEALERS

OF ULSTER COUNTY TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO ANNOUNCE THAT

J. M. DOREMUS
WOODSTOCK, NEW YORK

has been presented the GRAND AWARD of a JET TOWER ELECTRIC DISHWASHER SINK!

This beautiful Dishwasher Sink is one of 500 Dishwasher Sinks that have been given away by Youngstown Kitchens throughout the nation.

Operating on a "revolutionary" principle of automatic dishwashing, this new YOUNGSTOWN KITCHENS DISHWASHER will do the family's dishes in less than 10 minutes. The young lady holds the partially filled upper basket to show how cups, glasses and silverware are positioned. A lower basket holds plates, larger dishes and pans. The machine will hold table service for six people. The tube in the middle of the tub is a jet tower which spins and throws powerful streams of water which clear food particles off dishes. Water at 180 degrees is delivered from a booster heater tank in the machine.

The Society of Weather Fore-went for a picnic. A newspaper reporter, desiring to know just how much a group would disrupt themselves, called upon the president of the society the next day and asked:

"What happened?"
"Nothing," came the prognosticator's gloomy reply. "It rained."

Roasting of the farms in the Dakotas, a native said:
"We have some farms out our way that are pretty good size. I've seen a man on one of our big farms start out in the spring and plow a straight furrow till fall.
Then he harvested back. And that's not all. It is the usual thing to send young married couples out to milk the cows, and their children come back with the milk."

Counsel—What is the defendant's reputation for truth and it beautifully.

First—What do you know about

Second—Plenty. I drove a taxi-

A convict wearing a leg iron escaped from a train conveying

Dewey Counsel

cent, progressive administration in the legislature for the good of the entire state."

The assemblyman went into detail on the record emphasizing aid to education, school construction, vocational training, scholarships.

He stressed that "in Ulster county alone State Aid to education in the 1949-50 period amounted to $2,188,110, an increase of $1,487,728 or 110 per cent above what it was the last year before the Dewey administration took over."

Wicks Asks Bigger Majority
Chairman Connolly said Senator Wicks is Ulster Republican party leader asks a 25 per cent increase in the state ticket GOP majority.

Connolly pointed out that when Dewey ran in 1946 the city gave him a majority of 3,100. When he ran for the presidency in 1948, his Kingston plurality was 3,169 with 283 votes going to Henry Wallace, the other candidate in the race with Harry Truman.

In vacating about the stress of the times, with Federal economy strained and abused, and bumbling in Washington, Attorney Walsh emphasized that the people need the Republican party to shape the policy of the state.

The Washington administration seems just as confused and the impression of still better government for a flock of votes," he said.

Discredit Washington
Referring to the Korean war he said: "Let them (the Truman administration) tell the men in the 24th Division how much credit is due Washington for victories won."

It was here and good generalship that carried us through," he said as he pointed to 2,500 casualties.

He scored the lack of preparation. "What about the boys who went out with seven year old machine guns to stop modern tanks?" Walsh asked. "And what about the way Stalin outmaneuvered us at Yalta?"

He called upon his listeners to recall the split between Secretary of Defense Johnson and Secretary of State Acheson. "Truman knew about it and did nothing. He said he'd never fire Johnson. But look what happened."

"There's no leadership in Washington," Walsh stressed, and it has been up to the people to show their dislike on policies.

New York Shows Way
He went back to V-J Day and pointed out the apt way in which New York state was handled under the Dewey guidance.

"New York state put into motion a housing program that constructed more homes than all the 48 states combined."

Walsh cited that three emergency colleges to help returning G.I.'s and all of them were able to finish their education. Mr. Gregor, rest camp for veterans entered to 10,500, five and a half million inquiries were handled.

Quoting a past commander of the American Legion he said, "New York state's standards for aiding veterans leads the nation, and other states should follow its example."

The Department of Commerce helped set up 170,000 small businesses on a firm basis, and war industries were reconverted with dispatch.

And, New York state accomplished these things with a balanced budget, not like Washington which is burdening the people with debts and higher taxes.

Prove It, or Shut Up

Regarding charges being hurled by the Democrats, Walsh asked "Why haven't they accepted challenges to testify before grand juries?"

"They should be able to prove what they say or shut up," he told the meeting.

Treating the Hanley letter, he advised, "It's better to have men in office who have come up the hard way."

Walsh referred to the decision of Albany county's Democratic district attorney who said he planned to investigate of the "Hanley letter" because he was convinced that the request for a probe was not made in good faith. It was then that he called Lynch "an ornamental thug of the Tammany machine."

The ward committeemen in the assembly were urged by Chairman Connolly to work hard for a Republican victory on Election Day.

Luxuries Spoil Children

Sydney (A) - Luxury living in Japan is spoiling wives and children of allied soldiers there, says H. Porter, a school teacher. Porter, an Australian, taught the children of B.C.O.F. families for a year at Iwakuni. He said in an interview on his return, however, "Classroom recollections of the children reflected the luxury of their life in Japan. Even the smallest of children talked of 'my housemaid.' And in the classroom, they did not seem to be able to apply themselves as well as the Japanese children. The Japanese children seemed to have a fanatical zeal to learn as much as they could."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says 50 degrees is the best temperature at which to store hatching eggs.

Business Boom Is Seen for Central Broadway Section

"There's a bright future ahead for the area," President Robert Case told the members of the Central Business Men's Association at their annual dinner meeting in The Bain, Wednesday night.

"Things are looking up from a business standpoint," he told the assemblage that filled the dining hall of the night club, and emphasized that inquiries have been received relative to the location of a five and 10 cent store in the central section of the city. In view of the bright prospects for increased business, Case said it is anticipated that improvements will be made to store fronts for the display of merchandise.

He said that within a week or 10 days excavation will start on the West Shore Railroad crossing elimination project, and Broadway will be closed.

A meeting of the association is planned to discuss matters relating to traffic, bus routes and other conditions brought on by the project.

Norman G. Rafalowsky, chairman of the dinner meeting, welcomed the members of the association and the guests. After the dinner movies were shown or the New York State Thruway, which were highly informative, and entertainment was furnished by Earl Jerris, song writer now engaged at The Bain. Don Plerson's band played for dancing.

1,500 Visitors See Vocational School On Opening Night

The number of persons who visited the new addition to the vocational school building here Wednesday night has been roughly estimated at 1,500.

Robert Herzog, president of the Board of Education, said visitors "strengthened in and out" of the building steadily from 7 until 9 p. m. He added that he was gratified that so many took the opportunity of seeing the inside operations of a part of the school system.

The new building, erected at a cost of $381,000, was in full operation when opened to the public. Night school was in session in some classes, and in others volunteer students and teachers conducted display classes. As a result, not only the auto and electrical shops were working, but there were girls cooking and sewing in the homemaking department, students doing experiments in the chemistry laboratory, band and orchestra classes in session, and students demonstrating the facilities of the radio workshop. Board of Education members, teachers and janitors were present to answer questions put to them by visitors.

Says Charges False

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Congressman Pope, Jr., 25-year-old publisher, says Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's campaign attacks on him were made because his newspaper would not support Impellitteri for mayor. Pope is publisher of 11 Progresso Italiano-American, Italian language paper. He said in a statement last night that Impellitteri's remarks about him were "false and unsubstantiated" and were part of "a desperate political move." Pope issued the statement after he was stripped of his status as an honorary deputy police commissioner and threatened with loss of his membership in the board of higher education. These developments followed Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's charge that Pope had played along in the mayoral race with campaigner Frank Costello, reportedly a figure in Tammany Hall affairs.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—A wave of selling, sudden and violent as a summer storm, rocked the stock market this morning.

Key stocks dropped $1 to more than $2 a share before the market got back on an even keel. A rally took shape almost immediately after the worst of the selling was over and extreme losses were trimmed.

For almost 45 minutes orders to sell flooded into the exchange so rapidly that the high-speed ticker fell behind in reporting prices from the trading floor. The lag amounted to eight minutes at one time.

To keep abreast of the market the exchange resorted to the unusual procedure of flashing prices of a few key stocks directly from the floor.

Wall Street quarters were unable to single out any one factor to account for the plunge. Most regarded the rush to sell as caused by a combination of nerves and general uneasiness over government controls and taxes, and the international situation.

Goodrich showed independent strength following news of a proposal to split the stock on the basis of three shares for one.

Curb stocks which took a beating included Babcock & Wilcox, Cities Service, Duval Sulphur, Pansteel Metallurgical, Jefferson Lake Sulphur, Middle States Petroleum, Technicolor, and U. S. Felt "B."

Ellenville Has Career Day Plan For Its Students

A Career Day program is planned by Ellenville Public Schools, according to Frances DuBois, guidance director, who is arranging the event for November 7 in connection with American Education Week.

The schedule for the day will be divided into three parts as follows:

From 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. the students will have an opportunity to hear about the two vocations in which they are most interested. At 3:30 the college representatives will have an opportunity to meet with students interested in their particular school, college or university.

At 5:30 a dinner will be served free of charge in the cafeteria.

At 7 o'clock the parents will meet in groups to hear about the vocations that their children have selected.

"We feel that this is most important if they are to properly counsel and guide them," said Director DuBois.

Road Hog Ruins Car

Padua, Ill. (AP)—A new automobile struck a 450 pound hog on a highway. The results: The car was damaged extensively. The hog was killed.

Most Meats Are Increased In Price; Pork Gains Most

(By The Associated Press)

Changes in retail food prices presented a mixed pattern of ups and downs this week: Most meats higher, with the exception of lightweight chickens; eggs and dairy products about steady; several fresh produce items lower.

The more popular pork cuts advanced the most. Loin pork chops, for example, were up four to eight cents a pound in many stores across the nation, and up as much as 16 to 20 cents in some.

Price-makers for large food chains said the pork hogs reflected higher wholesale prices in the past week or two. They predicted that retail quotations would start turning downward again this week-end and next week because wholesale prices already were on the decline again.

"Pork prices dropped too fast in most places during the first week in October," one chain spokesman said. "We advertised the lower prices extensively and the buying surge that followed just about cleared out the available pork, creating a temporarily tight supply situation and sending prices up again."

Beef Takes Jump

Beef items rose two to four cents a pound in several large marketing centers, and lamb and veal also were a little higher. But frying and broiling chickens edged a few cents lower in the face of large supplies.

Fresh produce working lower during the week included lettuce, cranberries, both northwestern and eastern apples, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower. Up a shade were peppers and cabbage.

Grapefruit prices were only slightly affected by word that last week's Florida hurricane had damaged citrus areas. The Agriculture Department estimated that 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 boxes of grapefruit were lost, out of a crop of around 32,500,000 boxes, and 1,000,000 boxes of oranges from a crop of 62,500,000.

Storm Is Blamed

The American Institute of Food Distribution said prices of string beans would be higher for the next four to six weeks because the storm wiped out about one-eighth of Florida's late fall acreage. Areas growing cucumbers, tomatoes, squash and eggplant also were damaged, but Agriculture Department reports said the storm sectors were recovering faster than had been expected and losses probably would have slight effect on prices.

The Department's list of plentiful foods for November is topped by turkeys—a record crop is estimated for 1950—and a bumper harvest of cranberries. Apples have another leading spot on the list, for Halloween next week and all of November. The 1950 apple output is estimated at 120.1 million bushels—ten per cent above average.

Other Plentiful Foods

Other foods on the national list of November plentiful: Cabbage, carrots, onions, both Irish and sweet potatoes, eggs, broilers and fryers, hens, pork, butter, cheese and cottage cheese, and honey.

Frozen food men told a meeting of the Sales Executive Club in New York this week that there are now more than 1,000 processors of frozen fruits, vegetables, seafoods, poultry, meats, juice concentrates and specialties. E. W. Williams, publisher of the authoritative trade magazine "Quick Frozen Foods," said about 150,000 stores now handle frozen foods and this figure should soon double.

"The time will come shortly when very fine pre-cooked dishes, reasonably priced, and in small individual portions, will be available to all," he said.

Martin Mathews, marketing director of Snow Crop Marketers, said production of frozen orange juice concentrate had grown from around 400,000 gallons in 1946 to about 22 million this year. "Priced properly to the consumer, there is no telling what this product can attain in the next five years," he told the sales executives.

And Charles G. Mortimer, Jr., vice president of General Foods Corp., said the growth of the industry will depend on how wisely producers choose the items they offer in frozen form. Freezing must contribute to its quality and to home labor-saving, he said, and even with the cost of processing and storage, still sell at a price representing a good consumer value.

Engineer Is Freed

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—A marine engineer, whose wife died last July from a slap on the face, was freed of a homicide charge yesterday when a grand jury failed to indict him. The engineer, William Large, 32, had quarreled with his estranged wife, Madeline, 27. She died following the spat. Large said he slapped her, but denied beating her severely. An autopsy showed the woman died from a cerebral hemorrhage because she had an unusual weakness in a vein in her cheek. "I never meant to hurt her," said Large.

Clarence Hydes Arrive in Florida As Hurricane Hits

A Kingstonian who was vacationing with his wife at Miami Beach, Florida, narrowly escaped injury when the recent hurricane hit that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hyde of 17 Levan street motored to Florida, arriving just as the severe storm was beginning to be felt.

Mr. Hyde wrote a friend in Kingston that he was in a hotel lobby in Miami Beach when a part of the hotel upper structure came down through the skylight, shattering the glass and bringing with it "a deluge of water." Hyde was not hurt.

Writing on Monday, October 23, Hyde said that men of the city are still working long hours to clean up Miami Beach. He claims, Hyde wrote, that it is the worst storm they ever experienced.

Many palm trees were broken off about three feet above the ground, Hyde reported. Hyde is employed in the office of the Capital Supply Company, 534 Broadway. On their return from Miami Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde plan to stop at Orlando to visit brothers of William C. Kingman of this city.

Ryan Awarded $3,500 in Court

Martin Ryan of Highland was awarded $3,500 for injuries which he sustained on September 30, 1945, when he was struck by a car operated by Bronick Malinowski of Huntington, L. I., near the junction of Highway 9W and the Wildlow's Corners road, as Ryan was crossing the road.

The action was tried in Supreme Court before Justice Schirick and a jury. George Rusk appeared for plaintiff and Philip Mylod for defendant.

A jury was taken in No. 79, Peter Lazzari and another against Leonard Hammer and another, negligence action arising out of an accident at Milton. Michael Nardone appears for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendants. The case was commenced at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Announced as settled was No. 92 and 128, compensation cases, David Salini against Lotmar Taxi Corporation and Lotmar Corporation against David Salini, personal injury and property damage actions. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for Salini and Louis Cohen and Jerome Heffer for Lotmar.

Spokesman Says Mission Is to Clear Korea

Tokyo, Oct. 26 (AP)—A spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters said today "the mission of United Nations forces is to clear Korea."

That was in answer to questions if there is a line south of the Manchurian border which American and British troops were not to cross.

He said he was authorized to make only that statement. And he could not answer a question as to whether this represented a change in plans.

Earlier a "don't cross" line was reported drawn 20 miles south of the Manchurian frontier. Later, the order was reported withdrawn.

An air force spokesman said a bomb line established 12 miles south of Manchurian border had been moved to the Manchurian border.

He added, however, there have been no targets for allied warplanes in that area and no bombing has taken place near the Red China border.

Hope Greets Marines

Wonsan, Korea, Oct. 26 (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope today greeted U. S. Marines landing at Wonsan. Hope and his troupe entertained 3,000 servicemen in an underground hangar. A 500-pound dud bomb and two burned out Russian-made planes were removed from the hangar before the start of the show.

225 Are Present At Area Institute

More than 225 teachers, nurses, social workers and other professional workers attended the first of four scheduled meetings in the Professional Workers Institute at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday night.

Sponsored by the Mental Health Committee of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, the institute brought here as its first speaker, Dr. Mary E. Mercer, assistant professor of psychiatry in pediatrics at Cornell Medical Center, New York.

Discussing the pre-school child, Dr. Mercer gave her listeners many keys to understanding the child's behavior, urging that the common mistake of applying "adult standards" to child not be continued.

Discussion held. The talk was followed by a panel discussion in which the participants were the Rev. Robert Dickson of Saugerties; Miss Mary Polhemus, teacher at Public School No. 6; Miss Edna Kullmann, case supervisor of the child welfare department; Miss Dorothy Budenhagen, R.N., of Kingston Hospital; and Dr. Elbert McElduff, Jr., practicing pediatrician.

Dr. Edward F. Shea, chairman of the mental health committee, presided.

The meeting was the first of four scheduled to acquaint professional workers with various aspects of mental health. The next meeting will be held November 8, when discussion will center about the school child and teenage youngsters.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

We Americans have many hard lessons to learn as we enter a long, difficult period of peace-time preparations for war.

That is something new for us. It seems to me that the two biggest lessons we have to learn are—

1. How to form the habit of thinking internationally; and
2. How to put country above self, and to have the enlarged outlook that the United States faces a world struggle.

We have become accustomed to a near-sighted outlook—to a domestic viewpoint. This is inherent and has been the scope of our education. In contrast, somehow we got to acquire the far-off, world-wide vision on events and economic affairs.

This is the contrary philosophy we shall require in the years ahead—if we wish to keep abreast of trends. It is certainly essential if we ever hope to be ahead of trends.

Admittedly, it is difficult for Americans to form the habit of international thinking, but it can be learned. We can form the habit of digesting international news and books—even of looking at world maps occasionally. If we do this the outlook in Europe or Indo-China will make its impact on our minds in time—as events do in a neighboring state now.

This is emphasized because (1) we have tied in our fortunes with many nations and the international developments will therefore influence our economic and social trends here; and (2) because the United States has at last a definite foreign policy, which will affect us for years to come.

Our foreign policy may seem rugged and unstable to our untrained minds, mainly because it has become an accepted thought that we haven't any foreign policy. But we have, so let us be contrary. The policy has been established that we will fight Communist aggression wherever it appears. We have sent troops and lost precious American blood to back up this firm stand. Further, we are embarking upon a vast rearmament program to demonstrate to Russia and to the world that we are sick and tired of talking about "world peace"—we now intend to force world peace, or lose everything in the attempt.

You and I know that if America takes a stand like that, we are sure to win. We cannot lose. We are too powerful, industrially and economically, to be whipped by any nation. We are going to suffer in the endeavor, but it is better to take stand than weakly to go under without a struggle. This policy was reaffirmed by the President at San Francisco last Tuesday evening. While foreign to our policies of the past, it is nevertheless clearly our position.

tive foreign policy of the present and future.

Accordingly, if we wish to keep in step with, or ahead of, economic events and trends, let us discard our narrow analysis of purely domestic factors and acquire the world viewpoint. We shall thus be able to judge current, and guess coming, events with a more discerning eye.

This goes, too, for the need for "an enlarged outlook."

If this nation is going to put forth a large proportion of its energy and industrial production for war purposes—or to fend off a war—then we have got to look about personal desires in order to help in reaching the goal—a goal of supreme strength, economically and in war goods, that will make the future of our nation secure.

We shall never accomplish this end unless a full war economy is established. This means that curtailments of civilian activities will be essential. It will do no good to have a strong industrial machine, for example, if at the same time a wild inflation is permitted to wreck our economic and financial machine.

Guns and airplanes will come ahead of automobiles and television sets. The "hard way" will have to replace the easy-coming-easy-going spree that the public has indulged in since World War 2 ended. Someone is going to have to foot the bill for this great plunge we're going to make into world affairs, and someone is you and I and the other hundred and fifty million citizens. The enlarged outlook is going to hurt, but it hurt back in 1776 too!

Conservatives Win

Glasgow, Scotland, Oct. 26 (AP)—Britain's Conservatives won yesterday in a special election regarded as a trend indicator, but it won't shift the balance in the House of Commons. The winner fills the vacancy caused by the death of another Conservative. The Tory candidate, J. R. H. Hutchinson won a seat in Commons for Scotland District in Glasgow by a 1,319-vote margin over his Labor Party candidate, William Burgh.

Employment Increases

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 26 (AP)—New Jersey employment increased by 24,600 last month for a new total of 1,653,400 jobs. This was announced yesterday by the State Department of Labor and Industry which said the new level was 92,100 higher than in Sept. 1934. City Voters to Get Local Proposition

Due to a ruling of the attorney general, voters within the city of Kingston will be called upon to vote for Proposition No. 1 by means of a paper ballot on election day.

This proposition has to do with the power of the mayor of the city to appoint the members of the Board of Education. This power the mayor has had and still possesses.

If the voters vote "yes" on the proposition, the members of the Board of Education will still be appointed by the mayor. If, however, the proposition is defeated, the members of the Board of Education of the city of Kingston will thereafter be elected.

This paper ballot affects only such proposition and each voter will also cast his vote as usual on the voting machine.

State Registration Is Above
1946 Record; Total 6,432,770

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—New York state's registration for the statewide election Nov. 7 stands at 6,432,770, with only two small rural districts missing.

The total, announced yesterday by the Secretary of State, is 423,933 above the previous gubernatorial election record of 6,008,837, set in 1946. The all-time high is 7,044,676 for the presidential election two years ago.

The largest gains over 1946 were reported in normally Republican areas.

For counties outside of New York city, the total is 3,626,322, a gain of 331,520.

New York city, which is Democratic-controlled, has 2,806,448 registered voters, an increase of 92,413.

Two Hunters Are Killed in North

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—Two hunters were shot to death accidentally yesterday—opening day of the Adirondack deer season.

The victims were Vern V. Leeder, 26, of Carthage, and John B. Sweeney, 45, of Edwards.

Leeder was killed about eight miles from the Lewis county village of Harrisville. State police said the shot was fired by a hunting companion, Harold Chauffy, also of Carthage. No charge was placed against Chauffy.

Sweeney, proprietor of the Hotel Edwards and a former state trooper, was killed while hunting in St. Lawrence county.

State police said Theron Whitford of South Edwards fired the bullet that hit Sweeney. The troopers said Whitford told them he had aimed at two deer in a thicket. Dr. A. D. Burr, coroner, gave a verdict of accidental death.

P.S.C. Will Seek
Action on Fares

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—The State Public Service Commission said today it would seek court action if necessary to prevent the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad from boosting its intrastate fares to the level authorized for interstate fares in 1947.

As its first step, the P.S.C. urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider a recent decision requiring the New York Commission to okay the intrastate increase within 60 days.

Under the proposed increase the New Haven's commutation fares

In New York state would be hiked by about eight per cent. Chairman Benjamin F. Feinberg of the P.S.C. said that if the I.C.C. declines to reconsider its action, the New York Commission will "exhaust all legal means to protect the public interest."

Initially, this would take the form of an action in Federal Court to obtain an injunction to prevent the increase from going into effect.

Bancroft Files
Restraint Petition

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Joseph C. Bancroft, 45-year-old White Plains, N. Y., manufacturer, filed a petition in Supreme Court yesterday to restrain the Court of Special Sessions from hearing any paternity proceeding brought against him by Doris Furst, 25, a red-haired former model.

In August 1948 Mrs. Furst conducted an 11-day "maternity sit-down strike" at the manufacturer's White Plains home.

She charges Bancroft is the father of her child, Ingrid, born on Nov. 1, 1948.

In his petition Bancroft contended that the Court of Special Sessions was without power of jurisdiction to hear her case since he already had settled any claim arising from the alleged paternity.

He said he was no longer liable for the infant's support under terms of a settlement agreement upheld by an upstate division of the Appellate Division after Mrs. Furst tried to have it set aside. Bancroft said the agreement with Mrs. Furst was made May 13, 1948, and approved by the County Court of Chautauque, N. Y., on May 26.

Bancroft said the settlement called for payment of $15,000 to Mrs. Furst in installments. This amount, he said, "released and discharged" him from all obligations.

Estate Claimants Agree to Program

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—Five claimants to the estimated $1,000,000 estate of Mrs. Agnes C. Bigelow agreed yesterday on a three-way administration of her fortune.

The 83-year-old widow died last August 16.

Authorities recently found $25,000 in cash in tea cans hidden beneath her bedroom floor. Besides the hidden bills, Mrs. Bigelow left about $700,000 in cash in various Yonkers safety deposit boxes, stocks and bonds worth an estimated $250,000 and 11 parcels of Yonkers real estate.

Since the woman's death Westchester county officials have kept a 24-hour guard around the rambling old Bigelow home to keep treasure hunters from ransacking the premises.

The five-heir claimants originally split over the appointment of an administrator.

Yesterday, however, they agreed on Alice M. Edgar of Yonkers, Mrs. Bessie M. Cheney of Clinton, N. Y., and the Central National Bank of Yonkers.

Surrogate Charles H. Griffiths reserved decision on the appointment request.

Mrs. Edgar seeks court recognition as a first cousin of Mrs. Bigelow and heir to the estate.

Her claim is being opposed by four other persons—all claiming to be first cousins. They are Newton B. Bryden of Clinton, N. Y., May B. Hong of Sacramento, Calif., George H. Bryden of Lakewood, O., and Agnes B. Brown of Springfield, Mass.

New York Oct. 26 (AP)—Market Administrator C. J. Blanford said yesterday the November price of fluid milk produced for the New York metropolitan marketing area will be $6.02 a hundredweight (46.5 quarts).

The October price is $5.76 per hundredweight and the price last November was $5.21.

The Class 1-A price Blanford said is not paid to the dairy farmers. Instead, handlers pay 10 to the New York pool for milk. Dairy farmers in turn are paid a uniform price based on the use of milk received at country plants in the marketing area.

Last Tuesday Blanford forecast a uniform price of $4.58 per hundredweight for dairy farmers for October milk.

Massachusetts Is To Vote on Lottery

Boston Oct. 26 (AP)—Massachusetts voters ballot next month on the question of going into the gambling business with a state lottery.

The question comes up by initiative petition for a lottery to help finance old age assistance (O.A.A.). If it passes, Massachusetts would be the only state in the union with an official state lottery.

The initiative—filed under a constitutional provision which gives the people the right to initiate laws—was sponsored by the Massachusetts Society for Old Age Pensions.

The society has a second initiative on the same Nov. 7 ballot to fix minimum O.A.A. payments at $75 a month to make all eligible and to relieve children of legal responsibility to support their parents. It also would reduce the eligible age from 65 to 63.

If the lottery law passes—and only a handful of the dozens of initiatives which have been voted on in the last 30 years have been defeated—the state will be reaching back more than 100 years.

It was in 1811 that the first public lottery was authorized to raise $10,000 for public improvements in the town of Plymouth.

That lottery ran nine years, paid out $586,439.75 in prizes and raised $9,876.17 for the improvements.

Massachusetts voted lotteries out in 1833. Pennsylvania banned them the same year and New York banned them the following year.

Louisiana ran them as late as 1892.

Old age assistance is costing Massachusetts about $33,000,000 this year. There are more than 100,000 persons on the rolls. Passage of the law enlarging the payments would jump the cost. It has been estimated to $47,000,000.

The lottery program calls for half the revenue to go out in prizes, 15 per cent for the blind and for aid to dependent children and the remainder to the old age assistance fund.

Corporation Asks PSC Right to Issue Mortgage Bonds

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation has announced that it has applied to the New York State Public Service Commission for authority to issue $12,000,000 of new 30-year first mortgage bonds.

Proceeds of the bond sale will be used to meet part of the cost of the company's 1970-1971 construction program. While no definite plans have been made for the sale, the company expects that at least $1,000,000 of bonds will be sold in December and the remainder in the following months.

Central Hudson has recently introduced natural gas to its customers. Other projects in its 1970-1971 construction program include construction of 60,000 kilowatt steam generating station, a 200,000 kilowatt hydroelectric generating station and the extension of transmission and distribution lines and many other improvements.

Hickey Is Speaker At UN Ceremony

Woodstock, Oct. 25—A large and serious audience, a good portion of them young people, gathered at the Dutch Reformed Church Tuesday night to participate in ceremonies commemorating the fifth anniversary of the United Nations.

Explaining in brief the meaning of treaties, since the first one recorded in the Bible, Capt. A. S. Hickey, U. S. Navy, retired, and former naval attaché in Paris, Mexico and Argentina, was the speaker of the evening who gave an outline of the various bodies which form the United Nations. All of these treaties, pacts and finally the United Nations have had but one object—peace, he said. He reviewed the content of the United Nations treaty, its six separate orders, discussing particularly the Assembly, or the "Parliament of Man."

The smaller nations, stated Capt. Hickey, each have as much authority as a larger one, each having one vote. He also explained the power of the Security Council which gives the power of the veto.

He cited the failures of the Kellogg Pact and the League of Nations and asserted that the United Nations is endeavoring to build its decisions with a purpose. It was able to get an army together for Korea, he said.

Capt. Hickey touched briefly on the Security Council, the Trusteeship Council, the economic and social organs of the UN and the International Court of Justice, and the Secretariat which is the overall governing body. Any nation, he said, in the world may become a member of the United Nations, but must be recommended by the Security Council.

In conclusion he reported a statement by former Secretary of State George Marshall, that the great hope of peace in the world today is the United Nations.

Following Capt. Hickey's address, films on the accomplishments of the United Nations were shown. The films were worldwide and varied in content, but each clearly depicting the fast-acting, quick and effective aid already given to stricken nations, the solution of the problem of the city of Jerusalem, the U.N.'s continuous maintenance of ten weather stations across the Atlantic, its fight against tuberculosis in its T.B. Children's Fund throughout the world, aid given to underdeveloped lands and finally, although not a charitable organization, its quick response to the call when frightful havoc struck Ecuador in the earthquake in 1949.

Walter Van Wagner, introduced Capt. Hickey and the Rev. Henry Cook, who gave the invocation. Also participating in the ceremonies were the color guard of the American Legion, and the Boy Scouts and the Woodstock School Band. A special word of thanks was given to Mrs. Helen Buttrick who arranged the entire program.

The next donation dates will be the first Monday in February and the first Monday in May, and the first Monday in August. The mobile unit which comes from the Kingston Laboratory will consist of 15 persons is desired for each session. They must not have colds or an asthmatic condition. Young people between the ages of 18 and 21 must have the consent of their parents. It is not advised that a single person give more than one donation a year.

Since blood keeps under refrigeration only 21 days it is hoped that the program will continue in operation every three months. Anyone in need of a supply of blood should also call either Van Wagner or Huffy.

Drew Pearson's Washington Merry-Go-Round

Here are the details of the secret deal which Dewey forces made with Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley to get him to withdraw from the New York race for governor.

In case Hanley loses in his race for the Senate against Herbert Lehman, a new job will be created for him on the Throughway Commission—the superhighway now under construction across New York State. This job will pay Hanley $25,000 annually.

In addition, Hanley has been promised $15,000 income from an oil company, making a total of $40,000, or about the income he would have received had he been elected governor.

Finally, friends in the Dewey camp have promised to repay the $30,000 which Kingsland Macy, Frank Gannett and Norman Gould had put up to pay off Hanley's debts. The lieutenant governor had been in difficult financial circumstances and the Macy-Gannett-Gould backers had raised about $30,000 to bail him out.

Drew Pearson

STATE OF NEW YORK
ALBANY

September 5th
19 50

Dear Kings

After further consultation with my oculist and another who was called in for consultation, I have been forced to the position that I dare not gamble on my future.

Today I had a conference with the Governor in which certain unalterable and unquestionably definite propositions were made to me. If I will consent to take the nomination to the United States Senate, I am definitely assured of being able to clear up my financial obligations within ninety days, so that I would be clear for the first time in twenty years of my life. I am assured of an adequate living compensation if elected, in a perfectly legal and unquestionable way. Also I have an iron-clad, unbreakable arrangement whereby I will be given a job with the State which I would like and enjoy (I have been told what it is) at sufficient compensation to make my net income more than I now have. This removes all the gamble from the picture and will enable me to face the future with confidence and the knowledge that even if I lost my eyesight, I would still have a comfortable living and be able to do the duties evolving upon me.

After long and painful deliberation and in consultation with my whole family, I have reached the conclusion that I cannot afford to gamble with my future, as things now are. Therefore tomorrow morning I am going to announce that, if the delegates will nominate me for the office of United States Senator, I will accept.

I am not talking with you because, to be perfectly honest and frank, I have neither the courage nor the strength to do so. I feel very deeply that I have somehow let you all down and perhaps I have. If you feel bitter, I can understand why, but I can assure you that within a short time you will receive from me every cent that I owe you, and at least you will not lose that part of the investment.

I shall always think of you with nothing but admiration and love. You and Mr. Gannett have been wonderful and the only bright spot in the whole terrible picture is that I shall be able, within a reasonable time, to pay you both in full.

I am humiliated, disappointed and heart sick, but in fairness to myself, to you to whom I am indebted, and to my family, I can do nothing else. Please try to see this in the fairest light possible.

Very gratefully,

Joe

First in 25 Years

Pointing out that it has been nearly 25 years since the Kingston hospital has asked the public for capital fund, Streifer described the current program as a "once-in-a-generation" appeal. The hospital's last building campaign was in 1926 when the hospital was destroyed by fire and $300,000 was raised by public subscription to erect the present building.

"Those of us who are taking part in this campaign," Mr. Streifer said, "have undertaken a great responsibility. It is our job to see that every family in Ulster county is given the opportunity to invest in its own health protection by helping to provide hospital facilities which will be adequate for the next generation."

"The earnestness and enthusiasm shown by the many individuals who are giving their time and effort to this vitally important community project is most encouraging. It indicates, I believe, both general realization of the need for enlargement and modernization of the Kingston Hospital and a willingness to meet that need that augurs well for the success of our campaign."

No Indication

There was no indication from high U.N. commanders that Chinese Communist troops were on the move from north of the Korean border. MacArthur's spokesman Thursday afternoon discounted reports that Chinese soldiers in the North Korean army had been killed or captured.

Another such report cropped up earlier Thursday AP Correspondent Tom Lambert reported from northwest Korea there was no unverified report that a Chinese Red soldier was captured Wednesday near Kojong, 18 miles south of the border.

Some officers pointed out that thousands of North Koreans were trained in the Chinese Communist army, possibly leading to mistaken identity of the captive.

Dr. G. F. Bushnell Shows Korean Reel

An undisturbed and almost medieval Korea flashed across the screen at St. James Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, when Dr. George F. Bushnell appeared as guest speaker before the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Dr. Bushnell, who was stationed at the Army hospital in Seoul from 1946 to 1948, showed through the eyes of his camera the native habits and customs, as well as the nearly modern city of Seoul. The reels covered the mood of the country from barren mountains, rice fields, and Incheon harbor, to the familiar bustle of evening through busy city streets.

Dr. Bushnell, who also visited Japan while stationed in the Far East, continued with shots of various Shinto shrines and the Emperor's palace and fabulous gardens. As the changing scenes flashed across the screen they were footnoted and explained out of his own experience.

In addition, several lengths of beautifully woven materials, lacquer ware, and native costumes taken from Dr. Bushnell's collection, were placed on display.

Little Gardens Club Hears Book Review

A book review, based on Grace Greylock Niles' volume, "Trotting for Orchids," was read by Mrs. William Niles before the Little Gardens Club when they met last Friday at the home of Mrs. F. Snyder.

The preface of Mrs. Niles' book discusses the popular fallacy that orchids are a tropical flower which only grow in the United States "under highly artificial conditions."

It goes on to explain that while it is true many of the most attractive species of this beautiful flower group are endemic to tropical regions, a number of species of the United States these are today, according to collected reports, from 27 to 29 percent, and from 150 to 160 species of native orchids found in North America north of Mexico.

Mrs. Niles' preface also told of her travels in the Adirondack Valley region which extends through the Adirondack Park where the soil is particularly adapted to the growth of orchids, and it is stated that the orchid is widely dependent upon insect aid for fertilization and cross-fertilization.

A few remarks by Mrs. Niles concluded, "What a world of beauty and order lies sleeping beneath and unseen in the mossy recesses of our mountains—a world of discovery."

Following the review, refreshments were served with Mrs. Ruth Wadbury, and Mrs. Elvina Wadbury presiding.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

BABY SITTING FOR FRIENDSHIP

A young girl asks: "When Mother has guests in for cards, which she often does, invariably one of them can't get her regular sitter for the children and I'm asked to go sit. Now Mother feels that I should accept no payment because the people I'm sitting for are her guests, is Mother right? It seems a little unfair to me."

If this happened only once or twice in a while, I think your mother would be right. But if you are obliged to give your time to say nothing of energy—almost as often as once a week, I think you should be permitted to accept the pay of any other sitter. On the other hand, it would not do to ask to be paid if they take for granted that you are sitting for friendship.

Touchy Subject

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend wrote me some months ago about a doctor's report on herself, which sounded alarming to me. She said she was still uncertain and that she would let me know when she found out for sure and not mention it in my letters to her because of worrying her family. All these months have gone by and I'm almost beside myself worrying about her. How can I possibly find out?

Answer: Write to her and tell her that not hearing from her for so long, you naturally are eager to hear from her and hope she has not been ill.

Title on Visiting Card
Dear Mrs. Post: Just when is it proper to cross out one's title on a visiting card or informal?

Answer: Whenever the engraved name is used in place of a handwritten signature.

Snacks for Motorists
Dear Mrs. Post: Is a long motor trip a suitable time for a group of women to wear snacks? We are agreed that they would be more comfortable.

Answer: While driving, certainly. But if you are going to spend any time in hotels you should have a dress to change into.

Is your question about the reception for friends after the christening. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her letter, E-36 includes details on the ceremony, reception of friends and choosing the godparents. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 18, N. Y.

Quarrel Is Reported

Lake Success, Oct. 26 (AP)—United Nations headquarters today buzzed with reports that a quarrel in the Kremlin between Prime Minister Stalin and Trygve Lie led to Russia's vetoing of the bluff Norwegian as UN secretary-general. Lie spent a week in Moscow last May during a swing around the world's great capitals trying to sell a 10-point peace plan designed to solve East-West differences. His trip was widely denounced in the United States as toadying to the Russians. Exactly what happened when Lie met Stalin in the fastness of the Kremlin has been a closely guarded secret for more than five months.

The youngster was rushed to the Albany Hospital Sunday about 7 p. m., when doctors reported brain surgery was necessary. Following an emergency operation, his condition was reported still serious. A late report from the hospital said the youth was expected to recover.

According to the police report, the child was kicked in the head by a horse after he had crawled through a fence to a pasture where the horse and her colt were confined.

He was first treated at the scene by Dr. William Galeota of Kerhonkson and was later taken to the Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital.

Besides his parents, the youth is survived by a sister, Kathleen; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Krom, Kerhonkson, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hollis, Pulaski, an aunt, Miss Joyce Hollis, Pulaski; his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Osterhoudt, Kerhonkson; and a great aunt, Mrs. Anna Smith.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson. The Rev. Clarence W. Hunter of the Federated Church of Kerhonkson will officiate. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge.
